

How to Pose for Pictures Essay Brief

MINIMUM WORD COUNT: 1,200-1,800

Step 1: Do Some Research

This can be both personal/experimental research and online research. Look to see how others have written about the topic and put together a tutorial. Think about the step-by-step instructions you want to cover. Think about what photos you'll want to include to describe each step.

A few examples of posing tutorials you could write include:

- Female poses
- Male poses
- Group poses
- Family poses
- Sports poses
- Portrait poses
- Newborn poses
- Maternity poses
- Couples poses

Step 2: Make a List of Associated Keywords

Google a few keywords about posing for pictures. Pay special attention to Google's autofill suggestions, "People Also Ask" and "Related Searches" sections.

Make a list and use any keywords that pop up in the autofill section. This is important because this is what readers will specifically be searching for.

Pay special attention to any questions that pop up and try to answer those questions within your essay.

Example: When Googling "How to Pose for Pictures Woman" the terms "How to pose for pictures like a model," "how to pose for pictures to look slimmer," and "how to pose for pictures alone" pop up. You would want to make sure to address these situations in your essay.

Step 3: Follow Photonify's Essay Outline Template

Your essay should be written using this template/outline as a guide:

Introduction – Write two to three sentences introducing your topic.

Bulleted List – Create a bulleted list with an overview of what you'll be talking about in the essay. You want to give your reader a quick preview of the information you will be covering so they can quickly scan through to find the information they want to read most. Since this will be a tutorial about posing to pictures, your bulleted list should talk about the various poses you'll be writing about.

Bulleted List: Expanded – Refer to the bulleted list you just created. Expand upon each step/pose you outlined. Be sure to use subheadings throughout the article so that the text is broken up a bit and easy to read. A good way to structure your subheadings is by using what you wrote in your bulleted list.

Conclusion – Wrap up the article in one or two paragraphs.
